THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

An approaching political campaign never before caused more interest, anxiety and speculation, than the one we are just entering. The Democrats are muddled. Being without a principle or a candidate, they have been casting about to catch at some expediency that would elevate them to power, and secure a moderate insertion of their hands into the public crib, and thus, partially at least, slake their thirst and greed for public plunder.

As an expedient they turned sooth-sayers, and became the cajolers and flatterers, of a few discontented republicans whose political power was on the waen, and whose motto is and ever has been "Rule or Ruin." A breach, between these righteous overmuch, and selfish, ambitious political saints, and the Administration, was effected, when the Democratic flatterers thought they saw through it a faint glimmer of hope, and a probable grasp upon the fat things of the land, and set about at once to cater to, and encourage the widening of the breach. A new movement was suggested—the "Liberal Reform"—to be inaugurated by the discontents of the Republican party, and the sooth-saying Democracy being liberal spirited, tendered the Democratic strength to said movement, thus to insure its success, and secure the fulfillment of their own prognostications. The result of this role, was the call, and meeting of the Cincinnati Convention, which was manipulated by political tricksters, and foisted upon the convention, Horace Greeley, for President, and Gratz Brown for Vice President, a most harmonious blending of Protection and Free Trade, and a most unpalatable dose for the expectant Democracy. Many good men were inveigled into this movement, prompted by honest motives, but since they became cognizant of the wiley workings of the Cincinnati convention, they have put on the penetential robe of sack cloth and ashes and frankly acknowledge themselves sold. The nomination blasted the bright hopes of the Democracy, and they are now in a worse muddle than ever before. Their first expediency failed, because there are more Democrats prefer Grant than Greeley, and they can't endorse Greeley in their National Convention, lest they divide and wipe out of existence the Democratic organization; and if they dont endorse Greeley then they drive the Cincinnati candidates off the track. Hence how they are at sea. The liberal reform movement, having divided the sentiment of the Democracy worse than it has the Republicans, has thus become an unwieldy elephant for the former.

The Philadelphia convention will as a matter of course nominate Grant, and the Republican party will re-elect him in november next, without doubt. But we must ever keep it present before us, that we have a very important duty to perform, and great work to accomplish between now and the November election, and that is to elect Gen. John F. Hartranft, Governor, and Gen. Harry Allen Auditor General of the State.

We have Republican voters enough; men who have been steadfast in their hearty and earnest support of Republican principles; men who are proud of their Republican record, and boast of the glorious record and triumphs of the Republican party in behalf of liberty, equal rights and humanity, to do it. So far as the old Keystone is concerned in the coming campaign, our die is cast, issues formed, and we have presented as able and popular a ticket, as ever led the Republicans of Pennsylvania to victory. In order to elect it, and maintain Republican ascendency, we must organize our forces speedily and thoroughly, and fight the campaign with the enthusiasm and ardor that have always characterized our heretofore victorious efforts. Then let work, and united action be our starting battle cry, and organization begin at once; and success is ours.

—The New York World says: Of all the prominent public men of the country there is no one between whom and the Democratic party there is so wide and deep a gulf as between it and its life-long assailant, Horace Greeley."

WILL GEN. JOHN F. HARTRANFT BE OUR NEXT GOVERNOR?

Will Gen. J. F. Hartranft be the next Governor of Pennsylvania? is the query frequently propounded, among both Democrats and Republicans. We answer YES. The Democrats answer no, and base their answer on the fact there are malcontents in our party who are men of power and influence, and that Gen. Hartranft's nomination, does not engender any enthusiasm in the Republican ranks. In regard to the latter, it is a conceded fact that Gen Hartranft is a man of ability, and will make an efficient Executive. That is admitted by the malcontents who feel disposed to take exception to, and carp and quibble because of his nomination. His military record is one of honor, and of which he may well be proud, and Pennsylvania boast, of it as that of one of her sons. As a civil officer he has been efficient, served the commonwealth faithfully and administered his trust, with an eye single to the best interests of the State and people. He is the regular nominee, of the party, not a forced candidate in any sense of the word, and is the representative of the principles of the Republican party in Pennsylvania, and being such must and will command its undivided support, and thus insure his election.—His defeat would be the defeat not only of John F. Hartranft, but of the Republican party in the State, which cannot be hazarded for the gratification of a little personal spleen on the part of a few malcontents.

And what is the ground of the opposition of the few dictating malcontents? The chief ground seems to be of a personal character. Because, were they prompted by patriotic motives and loyalty to the State and party, why did they not present their opposition to Hartranft in a reasonable and seasonable time? His name had been before the people, among the first, as a candidate for Governor, which was well known to the doughty editor of the Press as well as the lesser lights who try to ape him, and re-echo his thunders. Not lie quietly by, never raise a voice of opposition, or warning to the action of the people, but endorse their action by tacitly assenting to it, until they have almost unanimously agreed to nominate a candidate of their own chosing, and then just before the assembling of the convention, to go through the necessary formalities of declaring their choice, raise the hue and cry of stop thief, and corruption and opposition, and try to secure obedience to their dictations by threats of defeat to the party. Such a course is unworthy a true Republican; is an evidence of him who pursues it, being prompted by questionable motives, and does not tend to strengthen the party organization. In short every fair mind does and must look upon it suspiciously. It seems as though it were an effort to black mail. It smacks too much of the rule or ruin policy.—Then let the people stand firmly by their organization, and give their support to the representative of the principle of the Republican party, and Gen. John F. Hartranft will be the next Governor of Pennsylvania.

THE SIGNS.

Will the Philadelphia Post watch the signs of the times? Will it remember that the Republican party is, and has been from its earliest organization, the party of progress, patriotism and moral ideas? Will the Post open its editorial eyes that it may see that the old fogy and disloyal Democratic party has become Greeleyized—is split asunder and is ready to tumble into the pit, where the door shall be closed upon it forever? Will the Post refuse to see that the great Republican party is THE party for the "present hour," that it, and it only possesses "sufficient vitality and courage to generate schemes of startling political progressiveness and splendid moral advancement?" Does the Post not know that their is not a particle of "miserable conservatism" in the Republican party.

We agree with the Post when it declares that "Parties cannot stand still while the material world is in rapid motion, and the wine of progress cannot be confined in the bottles of antiquity. To stand still in this age is to move backwards, and no great party can maintain itself in the grave clothes of dead issues," It is because of this truth that the Republican party is certain to succeed in this campaign. And it is also on account of this truth that the Democratic party is passing away, and the sorehead physicians cannot save it.

GO WAY, DAR! YOU MAKE MISCHIEF.

A darkey was near the top of a four story buildidg carrying a hod up a ladder. He stopped to breathe a moment, and felt an alarming tremor of the ladder. Looking down he discovered a hog busily engaged in scratching himself against the foot of the ladder, which was giving way at every rub of the hog, and bid fair to lose its perpendicular and bring the negro hod carrier to the ground. The darkey took in the situation at a glance, and cried out to his hog-ship, "Go way dar, you make mischief."

The Democracy (says the Cleveland Herald), is like the darkey hod carrier, and well it may cry out to Greeley, scratching himself down below, to get out for he will make mischief about the Democratic building. Democratic press and people are already divided and if the philosopher don't scratch the Democratic ladder down, it will be because stronger guys and braces are thrown out.

For instance, take the leading Democratic sheet in Ohio—the Cincinnati Enquirer. That paper is fulsome in its laudation of the wisdom and talent and judgment of Greeley, and is enthusiastic in its advocacy of Greeley as a Democratic candidate. The leading Democratic sheet in Michigan—the Detroit Free Press—says Greeley "has never in his life been anything but a nuisance to everything political that he has been associated with," and "in two things alone has he been consistent and persistent—hatred of the Democratic party and the true principles of the Democracy, and devotion to the absolute exclusion, at whatever cost, of what we might want and get cheaper in any other than our own markets."

The Greeley rubbing at the base of the Democratic ladder has caused such a terror up above, that the Democratic leader in the House—Dan Voorhees—cries out, "Is thy Democratic servant a dog that he should do such a thing as to vote for Greeley?" And Voorhees uses the idea of the great commoner Henry Clay, who, in the midst of his fame, declared, "I would rather be right than be President." And thereupon the "passive" Democrats, and the "negotiable" Democrats, put Voorhees through a short catechism, and Democratic explanations follow, and the Democratic lie is given, and a general Democratic fluster shows that on every rung of the Democratic ladder is there terror, and a tribulation over the political hog that is scratching himself at the foot. If Greeley stops scratching and goes to rooting, the Democratic ladder will surely tumble, and great will be the fall thereof.

THE DEATH AGONY.

The Philedelphia Post of the 17th inst., publishes an article entitled "POLITICAL PROGRESSION," which, we are free to acknowledge is ably written; but as full of error and sophism as is Tom Paine's Age of Reason. What is still a greater objection in our opinion, to the article is, that the editor of the Post gets his ideas from, and builds his false theories upon an article published in the New York World. We are sorry that our Philadelphia cotemporaries permit themselves to be thus inveigled by the more cunning and astute Democratic editors of New York papers. Can the Editor of the Post not see that all he says about the "preliminary transitoriness" of politics, is nothing more nor less than the death agony of the Democratic party? It is dying—going to pieces.

CUTE.—We clip the following from the Jersey Shore Herald, edited by Col. S. S. Seeley, formerly editor of the Democratic Watchman. "Two lawyers from Williamsport visited a trout stream within two miles of Jersey Shore for the purpose of catching some of the speckled beauties, and succeeded in getting about two dozen before leaving for home. A gentleman of Jersey Shore, who is fond of a joke, took the trout out of their basket and placed some chubs in their place. The lawyers did not discover the trick played off on them until they reached the depot, where they offered to trade the fish for some 'Mishergin tobaccer, or what you call it.' This was a Gamble-ing piece of business."

That was really a cute trick, Col. Seeley. How did the trout taste?

—A German paper, the Frendenblatt, devoted to the interest of travelers and tourists, says that Germany is visited annually by twenty thousand Americans, who spend there no less than twenty million dollars.

WOMAN'S SOLILOQUY.

BY BECKIE F. CANAN.

What a glorious institution,
This "woman's rights" has been,
It has raised us out of slavery
To a level with the men.
We have forced a part of our nation
To acknowledge woman's worth,
And we look for the reformation
To spread o'er all the earth.

Last night, at our weekly meeting,
I was filled with a burning zeal,
As I listened to the eloquent speech
Of our gifted sister Steele;
And a new determination,
Took possession of my soul,
And I felt, tha I, with my one weak hand,
Could carry us up to the polls.

The speedy consummation,
Of this our fav'rite plan,
Shall be to stand at the ballot box,
Side by side with man.
Not in a dainty corner,
Fitted for weaker ones;
But out where we can speak our minds—
Under the public sun.

Must I, with this great longing
Burning in my heart,
Grovel in menial service,
Go do a Mother's part?
While he who is far more able,
To bear the grievous load,
Looks on the wall of our tiny babe,
As a tiger on his road?

Must I shrink back in the shadow,
Trembling in modest fear,
Lest "the talk they have on election day
Ain't suited for my ear?
While out in the crowd, my husband
Will all attention go;
Are things which he unblushing hears,
Unfit for his wife to know?

No, no! 'tis a well made story,
To quiet us 'neath our chains;
But we shall stand at the polls e'er long,
And then we'll see who reigns.
Hurrah, for the good time coming!
We'll steer our own little boat,
Hurrah, for independence!
We women are going to vote!

And John shall go in the morning,
When the air is cool and sweet,
While I get the 'lection dinner
Ready for him to eat.
Then he can stay with the children
Through the long bright afternoon;
And he won't care, since he's cast his vote,
If I don't come very soon.

And now, this jacket's mended;
The churning nicely done;
The flowers set in the little porch,
Under the morning sun;
The baby asleep in the cradle,
In a corner nice and cool;
And our girl and boy with rosy cheeks
Safe in the village school.

I don't feel half so tired
As I did an hour ago.
I wonder what's the reason
The birds are singing so.
We've the coolest little cottage,
'Mong all that I can see,
And what care I is John is poor,
As long as he's kind to me.

I can hear the hurried tapping,
Of his hammer in the shop,
Wouldn't I laugh if a silver coin
At every stroke would drop.
But here I'm sitting, thinking;
Just as I used to do,
Before I belonged to the "woman's rights,"
More than a year ago.

John is as kind and tender,
And his smile is just as bright,
And he always tends the baby
While I'm away at night.
But I don't feel half so happy,
I've been thinking, and, 'tis so—
If there was a meeting here to-night,
I don't believe I'd go.

And when I think it over,
(Here's a hole in Willie's coat),
It will be a great deal better for us,
If we never get a vote.
It will only cause dissensions,
And hate and family strife;
And many a useless war of words,
Between the man and wife.

Though I try to raise my courage
For the scenes of a 'lection day,
I cannot keep my trembling heart,
From shrinking in fear away.
I believe that God intended
Woman to have her rights,
And He smiles on the man who tries to make
Her heavy burdens light.

But she seems to have a mission
Distinctly apart from his,
And seems by her different likes and tastes,
Fitted for only this.
And why do I love our home so,
And why are our babes so dear,
If God had not designed, at least,
A part of my mission here.

When woman seeks to wander,
And a new dominion start,
She only brings a weight of care
Unto a tired heart;
Her place is where God put her,
And her work will ever tell
Of a willing mind, that found its peace,
In doing its duty well.

Not that it is less noble,
Or one to be less blest,
Only that it is woman's sphere,
And she can fill it best
Not that it is contracted
To one little homestead's car—
She can reach the uttermost parts of the earth
By the magic wand of prayer.

She may not stand in the pulpit,
Her lips may never preach;
But, down 'mid the little lambs of the flock,
She is ever free to teach.

And who would not far rather,
On the tender shootings wait,
Than work with the gnarled and crooked oak
Trying to make it straight.

Just as the twig is guided,
The stately tree will stand:
Then we may boast that this great work,
Is trusted to our hands.
Instead of the soiled, torn paper,
To write our teachings in.
We have the pure and tender heart
Free from the taint of sin.

Why will ye wander, woman,
Away from this holy path,
And leave the little tender vines
To wither and sink in death.
Earth's labors but divided,
Man has his part to do;
While the other half—as pure and great—
Ever must rest on you.

PORT MATILDA, May 14th, 1872.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

The Republican State Convention which placed in nomination Gen. John F. Hartranft, for Governor, could not have paid Centre county a finer compliment, nor a higher honor than it did do, when it named H. N. McAllister, Esq., as one of the Delegates at Large to the Convention to amend the Constitution.

Mr. McAllister is an honest, upright, pure man, and one of the best Lawyers in the State

The Act of the Legislature provides for the nomination of 28 delegates at large, equally divided between the two political parties.

It now appears that the Democratic party in looking around for the proper persons to select as delegates at large have concluded not to be outdone in honoring its oldest and ablest men. We notice a strong feeling in favor of Jas. Macmannus, the oldest, as he is one of the ablest members of the Bellefonte Bar. We clip the following from the Morning Patriot:

[COMMUNICATED.]

DELEGATE AT LARGE TO THE CONVENTION TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION.

Editors Daily Patriot: The time is approaching when the democratic party will make its nominations for state officers and delegates at large to the convention to amend the constitution. Allow me to bring forward the name of Hon. James M'Mannus, of Centre county, as a gentleman eminently qualified by education and fitted by experience to occupy a seat in that convention. Years ago, when both parties selected their ablest men for Legislators, Mr. M'Mannus represented Centre county in the House, where he ranked with the ablest and was respected for his stern integrity of purpose. An able Lawyer, a pure man and a thoughtful and unwavering democrat, Mr. M'Mannus, and such as he only eminently deserve to be called to the revisal of our organic law, that the future may have the benefit of his wisdom, as the past and the present have profitted by his pure example and disinterested service.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

I find the following significant Bull in the local column of the last Watchman:

"D. F. Fortney, Esq, of this place, is now in Pittsburg attending the session of the United States Circuit Court."

Let all the people read! But in what capacity is Chairman D. F. Fortney, attending the U. S. Circuit Court, at Pittsburg? Have the County Commissioners slily had the tax defaulter arrested, or is the Chairman of the Democratic Committee before the civil or criminal side of that court? Due tell.

But not satisfied with one belch, here is another, in which the Watchman, says:

"D. F. Fortney, Esq., left here for Pittsburg, on Monday last, to be absent a couple of weeks. Should any of our cotemporaries out that way come across a gabby and good-looking but rather green country lawyer, we hope they will treat him well, as we are responsible for his good behavior."

This is a little more explicit, and descriptive of Chairman Fortney. He is "a green country lawyer." But what is he splurging on for a "couple of weeks" in the west? Has the defaulter paid over the collected tax of 1869 to the county, or is he cutting up with the people's taxes at Pittsburg alias Hollidaysburg, to the delight of the Watchman? "Cato," take a note, please.

BRIDGE.

—Says the Reading Times: "If the Democrats of Berks can bring a pressure to bare on the forthcoming Democratic State Convention, the Hon. Charles R. Buckalew will not receive the nomination for Governor. Berks Democracy is overwhelmingly in favor of McClelland.

—Colonel Brown of Kansas City, Mo., was murdered in his yard on Thursday night last. No clue has been obtained of the assassin.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

—Why is a muff like a fool? Because it holds a lady's hand without squeezing it.

—A farce called "Consequential Damages" is having a great run at a London theatre.

—"H. Gree Lee." is the way a correspondent writes old Horace's name, and says he is a "second rebel cusin" to R. E. Lee.

—John Hunter Armstrong, a boy of sixteen years, died in Louisville Saturday night of hydrophobia, after suffering awfully for twenty four hours. He was bitten by a dog in February last.

—"No, sir," said a woman, pleading for her husband who was before the Police Judge for beating her with a poker, "he wasn't always that way. There was a happy time when he only struck me with his fist."

—Somebody in Wisconsin has discovered that the northwestern boundary of the Commonwealth resembles a profile of the respected Father of his Country, and now it wants to be called the Washington State.

—A Missouri wife planned an elopement with a seductive chap, and gave him $200 and her effects; directing him to meet her at the town of Louisina. The effects met her there all right, but the man and the $200 failed to put in an appearance.

—In New York, a gentleman is said to have recently broken off an engagement with a lady after the wedding cards had been printed, because she would not follow his advice as to how the bridal party should stand at the altar.

—Robert Collyer says that religion in the city is so expensive that it costs a young man more to get to heaven than to the other place. As this is the Brother Collyer who told some one that he hadn't any L in his name nor any hell in his theology, we don't know what he means by "the other place."

—The Beloit Free Press gives notice that it has secured the service of a versatile and accomplished fighting reporter, who has been in the business fifteen years, and has in that time bitten off sixteen noses and twenty ears, besides gouging forty eyes and killing six men outright. Good man for night locals.

—A San Francisco woman so hates the husband from whom she has been divorced, that she lately tried to erase from the tombstone of their child that part of its name which it took from its father. Her intelligent design was to substitute the name of the second husband; but No. 1 heard of her intentions had her arrested.

—A young handsome, well dressed woman on Wednesday appeared at the county jail in Chicago, with a license and a Justice of the Peace, and insisted upon being married to a notorious hotel thief, who is awaiting trial, which will undoubtedly result in a five years' sentence to the penitentiary. The woman is said to belong to a wealthy family. The ceremony was performed and the thief returned to his cell.

—From the Michigan papers we glean the intelligence that fires are again devastating large tracts of the wooded portion of the State. The long continued dry weather has prepared the country for another conflagration, and there is every prospect of a repetition of last summer's disasters. A heavy rain of two or three days would be the means of saving millions of dollars and an incalculable amount of suffering.

—A Hotel to cost $20,000,000 is proposed in Chicago. It will be construct entirely of iron, ten stories in hight, and will cover four entire blocks, with grand arches over the intervening streets. Bazaars are to occupy the first story, and elevators at every corner. It is intended that the rates will be from $10 to $1 per day, according to the story, so that people of limited means, as well as those possessing wealth can be accommodated in elegant style.

—A young married woman publicly horse whipped her own brother opposite the Second National Bank in Titusville the other evening. The victim is about twenty-three years of age, and his alleged offenses is circulating reports prejudicial to his sister's reputation. Whether her character was vindicated by such demonstration does not appear; but in view of the relation of the parties, it was generally voted that the young man deserved a thrashing, for if his sister had gone astray, the brother should have tried other means to reclaim her.

NO MORTGAGE ON THE FARM.

BY JOHN H. YATES.

Mary, let's kill the fatted calf and celebrate the day,
For the last dreadful mortgage on the farm is wiped away;
I have got the papers with me, they are right as right can be—
Let us laugh and sing together, for the dear old farm is free.

Don't all the Yankees celebrate the Fourth day of July,
Becau-e 'twas then that freedom's sun lit up our natio'n's sky?
Why shouldn't we then celebrate, and this day ne'er forget?
Where is there any freedom like being out of debt?

I've riz up many mornin's an hour before the sun,
And night has overtaken me before the task was done;
When weary with my labor 'twas this thought that nerved my arm,
Each day of toil will help to pay the mortgage on the farm.

And, Mary you have done your part in rowin' to the shore,
By takin' eggs and butter to the little village store;
You did not spend the money in dressing up for show,
But sang from morn till evening in your faded calico.

And Bessie, our sweet daughter—God bless her loving heart,
The lad that gets her for a wife must be by nater smart—
She's gone without piano, her lonely hours to charm,
To have a hand in payin' off the mortgage on the farm.

I'll build a little cottage soon, to make your heart rejoice;
I'll buy a good piano, to go with Bessie's voice;
You shall not make your butter with that up and down concern,
For I'll go this very day and buy the finest patent churn.

Lay by your faded calico, and go with me to town,
And get yourself and Bessie a new and shining gown;
Low prices for our produce need not give us now alarm,
Spruce up a little, Mary! there's no mortgage on the farm.

While our hearts are now so joyful, let us, Mary, not forget
To thank the God of Heaven for being out of debt,
For He gave the rain and sunshine, and put strength into my arm,
And lengthened out the days to see no mortgage on the farm.

THE THREE SWEETEST WORDS.

It is said that the three sweetest names on earth are Mother, Home and Heaven. What voice falls sweeter upon the ear, or what form do we love more to see, and, when absent, miss more sadly than that of a mother? Who demands more of our love and regard than she who holds the sacred relation of a mother? When we think of the care and anxiety that such a relation creates, and which only ceases with death, we feel that such care will never meet its full reward on this side of the grave. From our earliest existence has that ceaseless watch commenced. When the little feet were too feeble to tread the pathway of life alone, when they grew weary and faint, a kind, supporting arm has borne them gently along a gentle hand has brushed away the tears, and a sweet voice with soothing words has healed all of childhood's sorrows. None other than a mother can anticipate childhood's wants, and minister to its comfort. When from childhood and youth we pass to manhood and womanhood, when parental restraint becomes distasteful, and the feet wander far into forbidden paths, where syren voices with deluding songs are luring us on to destruction, an anxious heart follows the wandering feet, and in the secret closet a tearful voice pleads for the wanderer's return. When the deluding voice loses its enchantment, and the pleasure leaves but a sting, a mother's heart welcomes the prodigal. Thus the Father who hears in secret rewards openly.

Alas! we forget the ministering spirit who stood by the couch of suffering, cooling the parched lips and smoothing the aching brow, and lulling the sufferer to rest. We forget that the step that once was elastic, is growing slow and feeble, the eye that shone with so much brilliancy has grown dim by the hand of time, silver threads are stealing over the forehead, and the hand that ministered so faithfully and patiently to all our wants, trembles and soon grows weary. There comes a time, and all too soon, when the voice that spake words of counsel and gentle reproof, will be silent forever, and the hand will have forgotten its cunning and lie quietly by the side, and the weary patient heart, will be forever at rest. There will be a vacant place in the family circle which can never be filled, and we shall listen in vain for a well known voice. Then, and only then, shall we fully appreciate a mother's worth. Unkind words spoken, and bitter feelings cherished, will then rise up to mock us in our sorrow. How important then it is, that we should by every act of kindness, smooth her pathway to the tomb. Great responsibilities rest upon those who occupy the position of mother, but such as are faithful in this important trust, in the day when the Master maketh up his jewels, He will reward with a crown of unfading glory.

Home! what loved and hallowed associations cluster around the dear name. No matter how humble, there is no place so dear to hearts. It is not wealth and luxury that make home so delightful. It is where we hear a father's wise counsels, receive a mother's watchful care, and a bro her or sister's love. It is where we find a hearty welcome when the toils of the day are ended, and gentle sympathy when the world treats us coldly and harshly. It is where the youthful feet are trained in the paths of virtue and knowledge, and taught to shun the way of evil doers. In the home circle we are prepared and strengthened to go forth and battle with a cold and heartless world. The home circle should be made the brightest spot on earth, for the sweet and tender relations that here exist will one day be severed. Soon the hearthstone will be desolated, and voices will be hushed. The chain that binds together will be broken, and one after another of the sacred links will be missing. From almost every household, some of the loved have gone to the echoless shore. Then let the family circle be brightened by words of kindness and deeds of love. As we, in future years, shall live over in memory the days of long ago, oh! let them be sweet memories, unmarred by bitter thoughts of harsh words and unkind acts. Then shall they prove a beacon light to us, pointing out to us the rocks and shoals on life's tempestuous sea, until in safety we reach the desired Heaven.

It is true, there are many tender ties binding us to earth, but how soon they are broken, how soon the cup of joy is dashed to the ground, how transient are the scenes which surround us! The immortal spirit turns from this scene of desolation, towards that which endureth forever.

"'Tis found alone in Heaven."

The pilgrim on this side of Jordan's stream tarries here only as a stranger, each night pitching his tent nearer home, feeling that here he has no abiding city. But his wanderings are ended, when he has reached his Father's house, obtained a place in those "many mansions" in the city which hath foundation, where he shall go no more out.

The flowers that grow in earth's garden bloom for a little while, but scarcely do we inhale their fragrance, and admire the beauty, ere they fade and die. But, transplanted to the garden above, safe from biting frosts and chilling winds, they shall bloom in perennial spring.—There shall be no evening shades to mar the splendor of that eternal day, for there the sun shall no more go down, but

"The noontide of glory eternally reigns."

There shall be no tears nor farewell in heaven. Now we are passing through a valley of weeping. The pathway from the cradle to the grave is stained with tears. We mourn over love grown cold and over the dear ones whom we are called upon to lay to rest in the Valley. Scarce do we clasp the hand of friendship, and learn to love them, ere we must bid them a long farewell. But "Beyond the farewell and greeting," the loved and the lost we shall meet again. There shall be no hiding of the loved form from our sight, no weeping over newly made graves. But our bliss shall be complete, when, on the banks of the River of Life, we clasp each other in a long and loving embrace. The links that one by one have been severed from the chain of affection have been safely treasured by the Master above, and when the last link has been taken from earth, in that deathless land they shall be joined together, and the chain shall be made perfect, never again to be broken.

'Tis a blessed thought, we shall meet again
When the fleeting day of life is o'er,
The loved and the lost to our hearts we shall clasp
In a fond embrace, on the other shore.

No tears shall be there, no gathering gloom;
There the wanderings are ended, and ended the strife;
Every tear shall be dried, all suffering be past,
When we stand on the banks of the river of life.

Death of a Female Miser.

A few days ago a woman named Catharine Jacobs, aged eighty years; died in Albany. She rented the rooms occupied by her about two years ago. She lived alone, not allowing any person to visit after a specified hour in the afternoon. Most of the furniture she possessed was given her by sympathetic friends. She wandered through the streets daily begging and picking up rags. She occasionally received aid from one of the Episcopal churches. One night she was prostrated by paralysis and died the following morning. The neighbors assisted in preparing the body for burial. On removing the bed on which she died, a large number of gold and silver coins, a bag of gold, and a quantity of greenbacks were found. A search was then instituted and a large quantity of coin was found in pieces of crockery, in the closets, estimated at from $4,000 to $5,000. The apartments she occupied were not in a very inviting condition at her death, from all accounts, as one of the neighbors remarked that the smell of them would be sufficient to breed a pestilence when warm weather came. Her death was discovered by her son, who had come from Washington to see her, after a separation of 40 years.

The Andersonville Prison and Its Appearance To-day.

Rev. J. G. Craighead, in writing to the New York Observer from Macon, Ga., under date of March 30, describes the present appearance of Andersonville prison as follows:

"I will tell you something of my recent visit to Andersonville. This historic place, suggestive of painful memories of thousands of families throughout the North, is situated upon the Southwestern railway, sixty-five miles from the city of Macon, and fifty from the Alabama line. Properly speaking, there is neither a town or village, but only a few scattered buildings, nearly all of which were erected by the Confederate Government at the time the place was used as a general prison for Union soldiers. Unlike most of the wooden country through which the road passes, the site of the cemetery, the stockade and the hospital is almost destitute of timber, and what is now there has grown up since the war closed. Within the prison not a tree or shrub then existed, even the roots having been dug up and employed by the poor prisoners in cooking their miserable, scanty food. The face of the ground is broken, and quite abrupt declivities exist at some places, with a small stream of water running through one corner of the stockade. The land bordering on the brook is low and swampy, while the soil on the hills is a red, sticky clay, that, after a rain, adheres to one's boots and clothes almost as tenaciously as paint.

A satisfactory view can be had from the railroad, and those who would see the many sad features of the place, must step over, as I did, and spend a day in looking round. A letter to the excellent Superintendent, Mr. Malone, a loyal Irishman, who for many years served his adopted country as a sergeant in the regular army, made me comfortable during my stay, and secured me an intelligent guide over the grounds.

The National cemetery, north of the railroad, contains fifty acres, and is surrounded by a white board fence, with an Osage orange hedge inside. Here are the graves of 13,716 Union soldiers, nearly 13,000 of whom died either within the stockade or the hospitals of Andersonville during the short period of fourteen months. The first burial was on February 27, 1864, and the last, April 28, 1865. During the summer of 1864 the deaths averaged 100 a day. Placed side by side in trenches, and as closely as possible, in rows of 150 each, the dead were burried with their comrades. The graves occupy nine acres of the grounds, and are all marked by a head-board, containing the name, rank, arm of the service, regiment, company, State and date of death of each soldier. The necessary information was derived from a record preserved by a paroled Union soldier.—Care has been taken to sow and cultivate grass, and the cemetery presents a pleasing contrast to the barren land surrounding it. The graves are thus protected from washing by the heavy rains, and they are kept in other respects in a creditable manner. Here and there we saw one with a handsome marble slab, erected by the hand of an affectionate father, or mother, or other dear friend.

In the northwest corner of the cemetery more than 100 soldiers are burried, who died in the service of the Confederates. Apparently, their graves have received the same care as our own patriotic dead, thus showing that the government has no wish to perpetuate the memory of the terrible conflict which caused so much human misery.

Four handsome avenues, with walks on either side, bordered by two rows of trees, lead to a circle where stands a tall flag staff, from whose top floats the star spangled banner. During the past two years many young trees have been planted, that will soon greatly increase the beauty of the enclosure. At the intersection of the paths, and usually in close proximity to the graves, posts have been put up bearing tablets with appropriate inscriptions, two of which read as follows:

"On Fame's eternal camping ground,
Their silen. tents are spread,
And glory guards, with solemn round,
The bivouac of the dead."

"The hopes, the fears, the blood, the tears,
That marked the bitter strife,
Are now all crowned by victory
That saved the Nation's life."

As was fitting and convenient, the stockade was only three hundred yards from the cemetery, and the roads so arranged that the wagons could return from it by way of the bakery and receive the bread to be distributed among the surviving soldiers. The stockade was constructed of large pine logs, 20 feet high, set 5 feet in the ground, and as close as possible together. Within the interior space, 17 feet from the logs, was the famous dead line, marked by small points driven into the clay and a board nailed on top of them. Fifty-two sentry boxes were placed upon the inner stockade, raised above the tops of the palisades and reached by ladders. Outside, seven forts, with field artillery, commanded the entire grounds.

Within this enclosure of less than 26 acres, there were confined at one time as many as 30,000 prisoners, without either shade or shelter, and dependent for water upon a small brook that was the receptacle of the offal from the enemy's camp, situated a short distance above. This was their only supply, except the small amount procured by digging holes in the ground, until in August, 1864, when a spring of pure water burst from the dry, sandy hillside within the stockade. This was named "Providential Spring," and it appeared to our poor men as much an interposition of God to preserve their lives as when He, by the hand of Moses, slacked the consuming thirst of the Israelites at the rock of Horeb.

It would be impossible, were it not worse than useless, to describe our feelings as we walked through the city of the dead, and trod the soil, every foot of which was moistened by the tears and reddened by the blood of so many patriots. What those 30,000 heroes suffered during the fourteen months they were shut up in that stockade, without a tree, shelter or blanket, faint from sickness and the pestilential air, scorched, drenched, mocked, hungered, starved—let us not draw the picture, but cover it up as too appalling for mortal sight, and commit the decision of the cause to the righteous Judge of all the earth."

Beautiful Farms.

Great progress has been made within the last twenty-five years among the farmers of the country, not only in making their farms more productive, but in making them more attractive. This, in a large measure, is the result of prosperous farming.

Those who had debts to pay, did not feel able to expend much in ornamenting their places; but since they have freed themselves from this burden, they have been more disposed to attend to the appearance of things.

There has been, also, an advance in taste. There are not so many now, as formerly, who decry all attention to ornamental as a wast of time and money. The race of niggardly and boorish men is fast dying out. Increased intelligence circulation of agricultural learning, the formation of agricultural societies, the infusion of a larger element of educated and cultivated men into the profession, have had a powerful influence in securing more attention to the æsthetics of farming instead of having everything expended for mere pecuniary returns.—And this is a great advance. It ennobles the pursuit of the farmer. Man is a creature of taste, and not a mere grub; and he who neglects to cultivate and gratify this element in nature, degrades himself. Any one may form a pretty correct estimate of the intellectual, if not the moral state of his neighbor, by simply looking over their farms. The one who allows his buildings and lands to lie in a slovenly state, when he has the means of improving them, may be a money loving, but he will also be a slovenly man, with no elevating instincts.

It is a great mistake to suppose that money spent in reasonably improving the appearance of place is thrown away. It may be doubted whether there is any more direct method of increasing its pecuniary value. Certainly its marked value will depend very much upon its outward apperance. Tasteful and well-painted buildings, well-arranged yards and gardens with neat fences, shade trees properly disposed, good farm fences and cleanly—kept fields, will set off a farm to a great advantage and make an amazing difference when it comes to be sold. And even if it be not sold, these things will add amazingly to the enjoyment of it by its possessor, if he be not blind to everything but the dollar.

Every man, too, owes it to the community in which he is living to contribute to the general reputation, and to public enjoyment, by making all his surroundings as attractive as possible. There is such a thing as paying too much attention to the outside and show; but there is reason in all things and a measure of time and attention and expense should be devoted by every one to making his home more and more attractive every year that he lives.

JUDGE BALL, who is collecting facts for a history of Hoosick Falls, furnishes the following: "In the year 1799 several cases of small-pox occurred in the town, and a dwelling near the village of Hoosick Falls was used as a pesthouse. Seven years afterwards the house (having been occupied all that time as a dwelling, with no case of small-pox or other unusual sickness,) was repaired. One of the workmen employed on the repairs was taken down with a disease which proved to be the malignant small-pox, to which he had been not otherwise exposed than by working on this old pesthouse." If small-pox virus can be retained for seven years in the walls, floors, ceiling or furniture of a dwelling house, greater care and more stringent measurers will be necessary to insure protection from this loathsome disease.—Troy Press.

GOOD ADVICE.—Don't be discouraged if occasionally you slip down by the way, and others tread on you a little. In other words, don't let a failure or two dishearten you; accidents will happen, and miscalculations will sometimes be made; things will turn out differently to our expectations, and we may be sufferers. It is worth while to remember that fortune is like the skies in the month of April, sometimes cloudy, and sometimes clear and favorable.

MAN begins with God when he gets to the end of himself.

REPUBLICAN STATE PLATFORM.

Below will be found the Resolutions adopted by the convention which placed in nomination Gen John F. Hartranft, Hon. Ulysses Mercur, Gen. Harrison Allen and the entire State Ticket. The Resolutions were written by that clear headed and efficient Republican—Russel Errett, Esq., and have the true ring. Republicans, workingmen and all honest Democrats, can safely stand upon this platform. Let them be carried out in good faith and there need be no fears entertained in regard to the salvation and perpetuity of the government either State or national:

1. That we reaffirm our devotion to the principles of the Republican party, and our belief that the continued existence of that party is necessary to the maintenance and success of those principles. The grand and fundamental idea of the equality of all men in political rights is not professed by any other party, and can be sustained faithfully only by those who are sincerely committed to it.

2. That the adoption of the thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the Constitution of the United States has not been sufficiently acquiesced in by all to render certain and secure their permanent incorporation in that instrument, and hence the administration of the government can safely be entrusted only to that party which is heartily, and beyond question, committed to them, and the policy necessary to put them into successful operation.

2. That we are now, more than ever, called to sustain the policy of national protection to American industry. If the laborer is worthy of his hire, and a fair day's work entitles the worker to a fair day's pay, we must continue to throw the protecting arm of the government around those who toil for their daily bread. The protective policy alone makes labor contented and capital secure. It renders employment certain, and pay ample and satisfactory; whilst free trade means that our laborers and mechanics must either work for lower wages or that our factories should be closed through foreign competition, and the workingmen of the country deprived of employment.

4. That the public lands belong to the people, and should be reserved for the people. We, therefore, pronounce most decidedly against any further appropriation of the public lands in behalf of corporations or individuals. All lands not sold according to law should be open to preemption and actual settlement.

5. That we demand a continued adherence to the policy hitherto pursued, under Republican auspices, in our State and in the nation, of a steady and gradual reduction of the public debt. The interests of the people require that the most rigid economy should be practiced in the administration of both the Nation and the State governments, and that taxes should be reduced in both as rapidly as is consistent with the honorable maintenance of the public credit, and the certain extinguishment of all the public debt.

6. That we are earnestly in favor of the earliest possible removal of the duties on tea and coffee, and urge the prompt passage of the bill for that purpose now before Congress

7. That we heartily approve of the act of Gen. Grant in giving a trial to the plan of civil service reform. We demand that the plan, or any other that may be substituted in its place as better, shall have a fair and unembarrassed trial, that every effort shall be made to secure competent men for public service, and that honesty and incorruptibility shall be deemed qualifications as essential as competency and intelligence.

8. That the Republican party has given full evidence during the past eleven years of its ability to administer the government honestly, faithfully and successfully. It has, within that time, maintained the honor of our National flag at home and abroad; preserved the Union from disruption and restored it in its integrity; secured to all classes and conditions of men the rights given to them by their Maker, and having proclaimed liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof, has given to that proclamation the full effect to which it was entitled; and we therefore, in its name, claim from the people a continuance of their confidence, and fearlessly challenge their scrutiny into its acts.

9. That we point with pride to the record of Gen. Grant's administration of the National Government. Not only has the weight of internal taxation been almost wholly removed from the people's shoulders, but three hundred millions of the national debt have been paid off—a result never before attained by any other people under like circumstances, and for which we are indebted to the rigid honesty strict economy and sterling integrity which the President has brought to the administration of a national affairs.

10. That we present his name for renomination to the Presidency, confident that the people will again rally to the support of the man who so nobly fought their battles; who, under the guidance through its struggle to maintain its existence, and who has since so successfully administered the affairs of the government as to command general admiration, at home and abroad.

11. That we will stand by the government in the foreign policy so firmly marked out and adhered to by President Grant. The honor of the nation, we feel, is safe in his hands, and the flag under which he never suffered defeat, will not be dishonored while he is kept in the front.

12. That we congratulate the people of Pennsylvania on the final accomplishment of the call for a convention to revise and amend the Constitution of the State and we earnestly urge upon our friends to see that delegates are chosen in their respective districts committed to the policy of incorporating in that instrument a clear and decisive prohibition of special legislation.

13 That we hereby declare our opposition to every effort to withdraw from the sinking fund of the Commonwealth, either by substitution, exchange or otherwise, any of the bonds, securities or moneys now pledged to it, and through it to the payment of the public debt of the Commonwealth, and our inflexible determination to preserve the same inviolably, for the fulfillment of the Commonwealth's obligations.

14. That the oil producing, mining, lumbering and manufacturing interest of the State require protection from the efforts of dangerous combinations, and that such laws should be enacted by the General Assembly of this Commonwealth as will protect said interest, both in their development and the transportation of their productions to market.

15. That the thanks of our party are due to Governor John W. Geary, under whose lead our principles have twice been successfully vindicated in Pennsylvania; the State debt has been reduced during his administration; our soldiers orphans have been carefully cherished and educated; and our laws have been efficiently and wisely enforced. Under the necessity of parting with him as Governor, in conformity with the Constitution of the State, Governor Geary carries with him in his retirement the heartfelt wishes of its people for his future prosperity and happiness.

16 That we present with peculiar pride and especial confidence of their success, the names of Gen. John F. Hartranft for Governor, Ulysses Mercur for Supreme Judge, Gen. Harrison Allen for Auditor General, and the gentlemen this day named for delegates at large to the Constitutional Convention. They are all men worthy of an active and ardent support at the hands of the Republican party, and we call upon our friends throughout the State to rally as one man to secure their triumphant election.

17 That the President of this Convention, in connection with the candidates this day nominated for State officers appoint the chairman and one Secretary of the State Central Committee, and that the State Committee be made up on the basis adopted last year, and the two years preceding.

AN editor down east thus speaks of a contemporary: "He is too lazy to earn a meal and too mean to enjoy one. He was never generous but once, and that was when he gave the itch to his apprentice. So much for his goodness of heart. Of his industry, the public may the better judge when we state that the only day he ever worked was the day he mistook castor oil for honey."

THE first cutting of the weeping willow in England, it is said, was sent from Smyrna in a box of figs to Alexander Pope. Gen. Chase brought a shoot from Pope's tree to America, in time of the revolution, which passing into the hands of John Parke Curtis, was planted on his estate in Virginia, thus becoming the progenitor of the weeping willows in this country.

COMING.

The fact that trouble is coming upon the Democratic party, must be apparent to every man who thinks. Greeley is surely the "hog at the foot of the ladder."

At Milwakee, Wisconsin, recently an informal meeting of the Democratic Central Committee and Democrats from all parts of the State assembled. The Greeley feeling was strong. The vote polled resulting strongly in his favor. In Virginia a Conservative Democratic State Convention has been called to be held at Richmond, on the 27th of June. The feeling in the State is overwhelmingly for Greeley.

The convention of the Democracy in New York, held last week fully endorsed Greeley and the Delegates from that State will vote for him in the Baltimore Convention, on the 1st ballot.

In an able article on this subject the Pittsburg Dispatch, one of the ablest papers published in this State, predicts that Greeley will receive the vote of 348 delegates in the Baltimore Convention upon the 1st Ballot. These Delegates will come from the following States:

Arkansas	12	Missouri	30
Alabama	1	New York	68
Connecticut	12	North Carolina	20
Delaware	6	South Carolina	14
Florida	6	Tennessee	22
Georgia	22	Texas	16
Kentucky	24	Virginia	22
Louisiana	14	West Virginia	10
Maryland	16
Mississippi	16	Total	348

The Dispatch closes its article by saying:

"The fact is one, the contemplation of which, does not alarm us in the least. On the contrary we view it with the utmost satisfaction. Let this fight be one between Grant and Greeley, and the loyal masses of the country will quickly rally to the support of the soldier-statesman."

We fully agree with the Dispatch in its closing remarks, to wit:

"But let the blind and unprincipled leaders of the Democracy, in National Convention assembled, endorse Mr. Greeley, and the election of the Philadelphia nominee will be placed beyond peradventure. Straight lines, a fair field, and a fair fight is what we want. Mr. Greeley's long devotion to Republicanism will avail him nothing if he accepts the Democratic nomination, and for every Republican vote he does receive, Grant will receive the votes of two honest Democrats."

—The Democrats have another ally The London Standard comes out against General Grant. It was against him during the war and in favor of Jeff Davis. The British tories will never forgive General Grant for taking Richmond, and after that forcing the surrender of Lee. The holders of Confederate cotton bonds in England were dead set against Grant for spoiling their investments in rebel bonds, which depended mainly on the success of the rebellion for interest and redemption.

—Young McCracken, who shot and killed his father near Thornton, Illinois, on Wednesday of last week, was taken to Chicago on Saturday and placed in jail, the Coroner's jury having returned a verdict that the killing was wilful. McCracken admitted having shot his father, but alleges that it was done in self-defense, to prevent his father from killing him. This statement is verified by members of the family who witnessed the affray.

—In the Superior Criminal Court of Boston, on Saturday, Jno. J. Crapean was sentenced ten years to the State prison for felonious assault upon a little girl.

For the REPUBLICAN.

BLANCHARD, MAY 20, 1872.

Ah, doubtless all the people of Centre County has seen the smoke that has pervaded the atmosphere, for the last week or two, and many of them felt the fires sincerly near, and still have no correct idea of how far these fires extend or what amount of damage they have occasioned, having visited a large portion of the burnt district can speak from personal knowledge. I see that the reports from different sections of the county indicate that millions on millions of feet of logs and standing timber have been destroyed, besides a large amount of other property such as lumber, mills, dams, houses, barns, wood and in fact almost every description of property has suffered from the fiery element.

On Tuesday morning May the 9th at about 10 o'clock in the fore-noon James Walker at Cato in Snow Shoe township set fire to a clearing; it being a dry day and a strong wind blowing from the west, the fire spread with great rapidity Eastward and by noon next day had reached the mouth of Council run, about three miles distant; burning in its course the buildings of M. Confer, Stone & Crays Council run Dam and about half million feet of logs together with all the growing timber in that region amounting to thousands of acres of land.

The destroying element did not stop here but, continued in its progress East destroying everything in its way till it reached Hays run, then burnt dam and buildings and from two to three thousand logs. Still being very dry and windy the fire continued on its course bidding defiance to all the efforts that could be put forth by the sturdy lumbermen to hold it in check until it reached the Tangascotac valley, when it met a fire coming Eastward some twenty miles from when it first started.

The same fire spread South to Marsh Creek doing a large amount of damage to the citizens owning property on that stream, and continued to burn with great fury on the mountains in that region for several days.

It was also carried by the wind to the North side of Beech Creek in several places burning logs, camps, and in fact everything that lay in its course, on the Twin Run, Monument Run, Big Run, two Rock Run, Eddy Run, and Panther Runs, and continued its work of destruction until the rains of Saturday and Sunday last put a stop to its wild career.

In the track of this fire there are thousands upon thousands of acres of timber land upon which there was not a green tree standing that has not been killed by the fire and must immediately be cut or be a total loss to the owners of the timber as worms will destroy pine timber within three months after it is burnt.

Thus by the in-excusable carelessness or malicious design of one man, the public has been compelled to suffer so much loss of property, and so much young and growing timber made a total loss to the next generation.

It is impossible now to estimate the loss and damage, occasioned by this terrible forest fire and it seems to me that where persons will, in dry and windy weather, put fires out in forests, or in clearings, or in any way, that they should not only be made answerable in damages but be made to suffer fines and imprisonment, for every man knows at certain seasons of the year that fires among timber are almost as uncontrolable as the thunder storm. Notwithstanding, it seems to be the business of some persons at such times to make it certain that these fires should get under headway and it never will be otherwise until the law-making power impose the severest penalty upon such doings.

Of this terrible fire it is impossible to estimate or itemize the damage done, or name all the suffering parties. Among the heaviest are the Centre County Lumbering Co. Thomas & Mason, Saylor Day & Morey. McHenry Coal Co. John Nestlerode, C. Quigley Gen. Beaver and hundreds of others.

Knowing that the public feel interested in these forest fires in their extent and result, I have written what I believe to be about the fact.

LUMBERMAN.

For the REPUBLICAN.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!—Fire on the mountains, fire on the hills, fire in the valleys, raging, burning, destroying timber, burning fences, impoverishing the land, causing much trouble and hard work for the citizens, and all the work of scoundrels who will never have their just dues until they are locked within the walls of our prisons. Is it possible that we have persons, either male or female, who are so lost to all the dictates of humanity and so given over to the devil as to be led captive at his will, that they will premeditatedly and with malice aforethought, set fire to the woods in such a dry time as, this, knowing what the consequences will be?

Our community is not safe while such characters are running at large. They should be ferreted out and punished to the extremity of the law. Has our Commissioners done their duty in regard to the firing of lands? By Act of June 2, 1870, P. L. 1316, makes it the duty of the Commissioners of the several counties to appoint persons, under oath, whose duty it shall be to ferret out and bring to punishment all persons who either wilfully or otherwise cause the burning of timber lands, and to take measures to have such fires extinguished, when it can be done, the expenses thereof to be paid out of the County Treasury—the unseated land tax to be the first applied to such expenses. Sec. 2 extends the provisions of a special act passed for Union county, the 9th of April, 1869, P. L. 786, to Centre and other counties.

This Act provides that any person or persons who shall intentionally set fire to any wild or timber lands, shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding $500, nor less than $50, or shall be confined in the county prison not exceeding one year nor less than thirty days, or both, at the discretion of the court. The Act of April 2d, 1870, makes it the duty of the Commissioners to appoint persons, under oath, &c. While fire are raging and property being destroyed, the fiends who kindled said fires go unpunished—for what is every persons business is never done—our Commissioners sit folding their arms, careless of their duty in the premises. Wake up, gentlemen Commissioners. Do your duty. Appoint some person or persons in every township in the county, and let us have those fiends brought to justice and locked up for the safety of the community.

LOCUST.

HUSTON TWP., May 17, 1872.

"OUR Digestion; or, My Jolly Friend's Secret," is the happy title of Dio Lewis' latest and most important work. It is well calculated to do good service in promoting the health of the people, and deserves a wide circulation. The very reading of the book will tend to make one wiser and jollier, for the doctor writes with great directness and vivacity, and a due infusion of humor, playfulness, and anecdote, which are sure to render the work attractive and universally popular. It ought to supersede Buchan's and every other "Domestic Medicine," as a household book; for it shows how medicine may be dispensed with, to a considerable extent, in a majority of cases. We confidently believe this book will save thousands of doctors' bills, if its wisdom is heeded. It solves the problem of cheap living, and will thus "if read by the many bless the million." It teaches us how to live so that we need never be troubled with "the blues," or suffer with billiousness or dyspepsia. It tells how to manage so that you shall have white teeth, sweet breath, strong muscles, good spirits, refreshing sleep and long life. This is the nature of the secret of our jolly friend, and is really worth many times the price asked for the book. Buy it, and study its invaluable information and receipts, is our advice to all. We are informed that the book is to be sold entirely by agents, and in our opinion they are seldom offered a better chance to make money rapidly, than the sale of this low-priced practical book will afford. We advise all seeking profitable employment to write without delay, to the publisher, Geo. Maclean, 733 Sansom Street, Philadelphia.

—Samuel A. Way appeared in the United States Circuit Court at Boston, Saturday, and paid the government $70,000, the unpaid balance of $100,000 assessed on tobacco irregularly imported. Other suits, based on information obtained from his books, are being pressed against him, one for $300,000, which he is endeavoring to compromise with the government.

Gapes In Chickens.

As before another issue some of the young spring chickens may be on hand, we bring forward again the most successful remedy, as a preventive, which some of our prominent poultry raisers tell us they have fully tested, viz: keeping them, while young, on the barn floor or other well sheltered place, where they will be under perfect control, and prevented from running out in the wet grass. Young chickens so protected are seldom troubled with the gapes; and where there is a roof over them, and a warm southern exposure, admitting sun and light, but keeping out cold winds and sudden changes of the weather, they begin early and continue thriving, without having any backsets. They get exercise without exposure. In fact, young chickens are like young plants or trees. Continuous thriving should be the word; no interruption. If stunted or checked in growth by unfavorable surroundings, they seldom recover their proper status, and both plants and animals, under such circumstances, are more liable to attack of disease.

The gapes, so called, are the most fatal enemy to poultry, because attacking them when very young and least able to resist. How the nit from which the worm is hatched finds its way into the trachea, or when deposited there, seems to be undetermined; but bringing them up on a barn floor, where a narrow board will exclude them from getting out, and where sun and air can be admitted, seems a preventive, so far as we can hear; and will answer the purpose on farms where here is no regular poultry house, with glass front and roof.—Practical Farmer.

Dyeing Sheepskins.

M. M. Lovell, of the Country Gentleman, gives the following recipe for coloring sheepskins: Unslacked lime and litherage, equal parts, mixed to a thin paste with water, will color buff; several coats will make it a dark brown, by adding a little ammonia and nitrate of silver, a fine black is produced. Terra Japonica will impart a tan color to wool, and the red shade is deepened by sponging with a solution of lime and water, and using a strong solution of alum water to set the colors. One part of of crystalized nitrate of silver, 8 parts of carbonat of ammonia, and 1½ parts of soft water, dyes brown; every additional coat darkens the color until a black is produced.

If long, it would be an improvement to shear the wool somewhat before dying.

The same paper recommends cutting timber for fence in midsummer.

Give the part to be put under ground a coating of gas tar, or thrust the end in a large boiler for a few minutes filled with hot gas tar.

SUGAR BEETS.—The culture of sugar beets is rapidly spreading in the United States. Not only is a permanent marked for them about to be established in the best sugar factories now springing into existence, but they are found to be excellently adapted as food for stock. Milch-cows, fattening oxen, sheep, and hogs, all devour them redily and thrive on them satisfactorily. The climate is adapted to them, and in their culture no methods or implements other than those needed for the ordinary culture of turnips or rutabagas are required.

A Temprance Argument.

An appeal to their pockets is after all the most potent that can be addressed to the American people. Their partisanry, passions, and even their religious prejudices, are secondary to the almighty dollar. For years the voices of the suffering and outraged victims of organized violence at the South were raised in vain; the nation was slow and tardy to protect. For years Tammany ruled New York with a grip of iron, elevated ignorance and incompetency to office, and practiced its iniquities all unchecked and unrestrained. It was only when the people discovered that the public revenues were being appropiated bodily and that the few were enriching themselves at the expense of the many, that patriotism was stirred, the popular indignation was aroused, and the fact that there was some virtue left in the land found out. This is a plan, practical, unpoetic view, but we are driven to it by the logic of events.

It, in connection with some statistics recentley issued by Mr. Edward Young of the Treasury Department, impels us to throw out some suggestions to the workers in that great reform—temperance. We address ourselves now to the conscientious reformers, and not to the class who attach themselves to every good cause, and who feeding and clothing themselves by this agitation, seek to lessen the evil of intemperance and put an end to the consumption of intoxicating drinks by the election of a surveyor of State lands and an auditor of public accounts.

Mr. Young, who is Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, and the author of those valuable periodical indexes to our commercial prosperity the statements of exports and imports gives an estimate of the sales of liquors in the United States during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1871, the following:

Whiskey, 60,000,000 gals, at $5 retail	$360 000,000
Imported spirits, 2,500,000 gals. at $10 retail	25.000,000
Imported wine, 10,700,000 gals. at 25 retail	53,500,000
Ale, beer, and porter, 65,000,000 bbls. at $20 retail	130,000,000
Native brandies, wines, and cordials, quanity unknown, estimated value	31,500,000
Total	$600, 000 000

Estimating our population at forty millions, the annual amount expended for intoxicating drinks by each man, woman and child of our population is fifteen dollars. Now this, in our opinion, while not as good an argument intrinsically as many others in the arsenals of the temperance advocates, is far more effective than those they usually make use of. Let the father of any family know that he spends for rum every year fifteen dollars for each of his children and his wife, and then let him compute (or, if he is unable, let his boy who attends a public school do it for him) the interest on the aggregate amount from this time forward to the period when they—his children—will arrive at manhood or womanhood, as the case may be. The result of this simple computation would convert more men to cold water than all the world pictures ever painted by the eloquent Gough—Forney's Press.

THE AGE OF THE PRESIDENTS.—As so many of the young of to day are hoping and striving to achieve greatness and possibly aspire to hold high places in the land, it may be of interest, if not positively consoling, to know that those who have held the noblest position known to our form of Government attained it late in life. Particularly is this true of President Harrison, who was the oldest of the Presidents, being sixty-seven when he was elected. That courtly and elegant old gentleman, Jas. Buchanan, was sixty-five when he became Chief Magistrate, and next to him in years was Zachary Taylor, the hero of Buena Vista, and the eleventh President of the United States. John Adams, Washington's successor, was sixty-one, as also was Andrew Jackson, and both Madison and Monroe and also John Quincy Adams were fifty-eight when they attained Presidential honors. Washington, Jefferson and Martin Van Buren were each fifty-seven, and Jas. K. Polk was forty-nine. Franklin Pierce was next to the youngest being forty eight, while the present incumbent, U. S. Grant, was forty-seven at the time of his inaugural. Of the three vice-Presidents, Tyler, Fillmore and Johnson, the former was fifty one, the latter fifty-nine and Mr. Fillmore was fifty.

No process is so fatal as that which would cast all men into one mould. Every human being is intended to have a character of his own, to be what no other is, to do what no other can do. Our common nature is unfolded in unbounded diversities. It is rich enough for infinite manifestations, and to wear innumerable forms of beauty and glory.

Hoofland's German Bitters.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind.

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or VITAL PRINCIPLE OF ROOTS, HERBS, and BARKS, (or, as medicinally termed, Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons or ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, when they compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others: no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circustances, have any but a beneficial effect.

Hoofland's German Tonic.

Was compounded for those not incuned to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1,50 per Bottle, which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefittad by it, will most certainly be cheated.

Who would ask for more Dignified or Stronger Testimony?

HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania at present Member of Congress from Pennsylvania, writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1871.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in case of debility and want of nervous action in the system. Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD.

HON. JAS. THOMPSON, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania,.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my own experience o it.
Yours, with respect, JAS. THOMPSON.

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1. 1868.

I have found by experience that "Heofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.
GEORGE SHARSWOOD

HON. JAS. M. WOOD, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport, Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep any food on my stomach, and I became so week, as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure. JAMES M. WOOD.

REMEMBER
THAT
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES

Are the medicines you require to purify the Blood, excite the torpid Liver to healthy action, and to enable you to pass safely through any hardships or exposure.

DR. HOOFLAND'S PODOPHYLLIN,

Or Substitue for Mercury Pills.

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The Most Powerful, Yet Innocent Vegetable Cathartic Known.

It is not necessary to take a handful of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels all impurities. The principal ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases, in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, REGULATES the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain a hold, or ever assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN REMEDIES that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by Express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

For all the the Purpose of a Laxative medicine.

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally required by everybody a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universally adopted into use in every county and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill.—The obvious reason is, that it has more reliable and far more effectual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them: those who have not, knows that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always—that it never fails through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterous drug, they may be taken with safety by anybody. Their sugar coating preserves them ever fresh, and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity.

They operate by their powerful influence on the internal vicera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions from the stomach' bowels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, BILLIOUS HEADACHE, SICK HEADACHE, JAUNDICE or GREEN SICKNESS, BILLIOUS COLIC and BILLIOUS FEVERS, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back or Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For DROPSY and DROPSICAL SWELLINGS they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a DINNER PILL, take one or two PILLS to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these PILLS makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.

BELLEFONTE, PA.

Wednesday Morning, May 22d, 1872.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

We would call the special attention of postmasters and our subscribers to the following synopsis of the newspaper laws:

1. A postmaster is required to give notice by letter, (returning a paper does not answer the law,) when a subscriber does not take his paper out of the office, and state the reasons for its not being taken; and a neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publishers for its payment.

2. Any person who takes a paper from the post-office, whether directed to his name or another's, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the payment.

3. If a person orders his paper to be discontinued, he must pay all arrearages, or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made, and collect the whole amount, whether it be taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until the payment is made.

4. If the subscriber orders the paper to be stopped at a certain time, and the publisher continues to send it, the subscriber is bound to pay for it, if he takes it out of the post-office. The law proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the post-office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima-facie evidence of intentional fraud

LIGHT.—From all parts of the country we learn the wheat crop will be very light this year. Are we not complaining too soon?

FRUIT.—The fruit crop in this neighborhood at present is very promising.—The apple, pear and cherry trees are full of young fruit.

ALMOST.—Last night about 10½ o'clock a fire was discovered in the kitchen of Garmans Hotel. It was discovered in time, and soon extinguished. The firemen were not out.

BUSINESS.—Graham & Son are doing a splendid business at their new stand on Bishop street. While they lose none of their old, they are gaining new customers.

BUSINESS MEN.—The BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN has a larger circulation than any other paper in the county, and is, therefore, the best advertising medium. The business men of the town all think so and patronize it accordingly.

DIED.—We learn, with sorrow, that Capt. Martin Dolan, Proprietor of the Curtin House, in Central City, fell dead while at work on Monday morning last. He was a brave soldier and a quiet and peaceable citizen.

RAIN.—Oh! what an inestimable blessing was the rain on last Saturday and Sunday. The fire in the lumber regions ceased, and there is no estimation can be fixed upon its value to the grass and grain crops of the country.

NO DUST.—Capt. M. Runkle has determined that the eyes of our citizens, and the stores of our merchants shall not be filled with dust this summer, rain or shine. The Captain has provided himself with a neat little sprinkler, amply sufficient for the purpose, and when it refuses to rain to lay the dust, he contracts to do it. He does it well.

LIST of Letters remaining in the Bellefonte Post Office, and unclaimed, May 20th, 1872.

H M Burk, Miss Mattie Boyer, C H Cambridge, Miss Beckie A Couser, Dennis Donahey, J T Doherty, Miss Fannie Green, Frederick Garver, John H Jordon, Miss Lizzie Markley, Mrs Martha Oniel, Geo. Ogden, S P Reninger, Samuel Reminger, Fanny Smith, J Stewart, John E Videar, J E Wells, Mrs Mary Young.

COMMENCED.—The contract for the building of the new Bank on the Blanchard corner has been given to Wm V. Hughes, and the work is now under full head way. It will be two stories high with front of white sand stone and beautifully finished and ornamented. Mr. Hughes has gained a fine reputation as a contractor and builder and the Watchman will not have long to wait for a sight of the "beautiful building that will crown that locality."

WATER.—The Town Conncil is putting forth every effort to so increase the power of the Water Works as to give a full supply of water to the people of the hills and hollows of our borough. We are not posted on their programme, but do know that we have water in the yard now, where there has been none for the last five months. Like many others, we charged the want of water upon the Superintendent—Cyrus Strickland. We discovered our mistake, however, when we commenced to dig up the pipes.—They had frozen and broke. Result—no water. This has proven to be the case in nearly every instance. Let justice be done both the Council and their energetic Superintendent.

WE heard that our "Borough Dads" really where beginning to think that they would probably soon, suggest that, that eyesore and foot sore piece of sidewalk, on the left hand side, of High st—provided you are ascending—between Vantries st., and Spring st., should be improved. Ye Owners of property fronting on same, had better wake up and beware.

About the "breakiest-neck piece" of sidewalk, that ever disgraced any village or hazarded the legs and necks of its inhabitants, is that on Spring st., running from Lamb to Linn st., by the Wigwam. We suggest that the "Town Council" take a walk out that way and see how it is themselves.

Damages will come in due time.

For the REPUBLICAN.

MESSRS EDITORS:

It may be interesting to your numerous readers, and to suffering humanity in general, to hear of a Surgical Operation performed by Dr. W. L. Atlee of Philadelphia on thursday second of this month. The subject was Mrs. Joseph Lowry who resides on the Muncy Mountain opposite Unionville. For several years Mrs. Lowry has been seriously afflicted and recently was placed under the treatment of Dr. Blair of this place and who after a careful diagnosis pronounced it an Ovarian tumor and that Ovariatomy would have to be resorted to. After the consent of the parties concerned, he secured the services of Dr. Atlee to perform the very rare operation. Every thing being in readiness anesthetic was administered at 2 P. M. and at 2.15 the operation was commenced and concluded at 2.55 thus only 40 minutes was consumed in relieving her of an enormous burthen carefully dressing the parts &c. The gelatorious fluid was measured and proved to be 51 tins full counting 20 oz. to the tin would be 63¾ lbs. the cyst weighed 4½ lbs. making 68¼ lbs. It was thought by all that at least two pints were lost or escaped in blankets, clothes, &c., thus making the tumor fully 70 lbs. in weight. Mrs. L aroused from her slumber about 5 P. M. and seemed surprised that she was in bed and comfortable. She is now able to sit up. OUR FALLEN HEROES.—The 30th of May is the day set apart for the decoration of the soldiers' graves. The Post of the G. A. R., at this place, are making preparations for the proper performances and ceremonies of the day. Committees of arrangement have been appointed. The ladies, the Sunday school children of all the churches, the citizens and soldiers generally have been invited to attend and aid in this solemn duty which we owe our dead comrades.—Bellefonte became notorious during the rebellion for its patriotic work. Money was paid out without stint and everything that could make the soldiers comfortable was sent to the front. Some of these brave men now sleep in our cemeteries, and it is to be hoped that our citizens will show by their actions on Decoration Day that they have lost none of their patriotism or love for the soldier.

The Grand Army of the Republic, in a circular issued from their head-quarters, make the following suggestion which we think a good one, "expressed as it is, in language sublime and impressive."

"In addition to the strewing the graves with flowers, it is suggested that they be planted with flowers and shrubs, so that, when we are gone, the seasons in their ceaseless round may, in our stead, adorn the sleeping places of our comrades."

WHY?—The Williamsport Gazette & Bulletin, says:

"The flies are getting ready for biz. There will be just thirteen million more this summer than last. Baldheaded men can keep them off by anointing the apex of the cranium with molasses."

Why this prediction? Is it on account of the anticipated "early" decease of the copperheads?

BELLEFONTE AND LEWISTOWN R. R.—The Board of Directors of this Company, held a special meeting on Friday evening last to receive the Report of their Chief Engineer, Alexander Worrall, Esq. His instrumental examinations were confined to the southern slop of the "Seven Mountains," and he reports a practical route from a point on the Summit, some four miles, west of Foust's via, the Stone Creek Gap, and thence across Buck Ridge and out through Cooper's Gap into Kishacoquillas Valley, descending the slope by going west and crossing the valley at Henry P. Taylor's; and thence via, the valley of the Kishacoquillas creek connecting with the Mifflin Co. Road at Reedsville.

By this route the whole distance from Bellefonte to Lewistown, will be about fifty-one miles as against the present Railroad distance of eighty nine miles. The first trial line in the Kishacoquilas valley, ran as far west as Belleville (Greenwood); but this, made the whole distance too great.

The Engineer is of the opinion, that the line may be still shortened one or two miles, by going into Kishacoquilas Valley, thence to Reedsville around Straley's Knob, via Patt's Valley, and at less cost of construction than his estimates for the Cooper's Gap route. In view, however, of the increased traffic insured, the larger Subscriptions promised, and the greater accomodations to the public, the Board of Directors seem inclined to adopt the line, out through Cooper's Gap, crossing the valley at Taylor's.

On the Western slope of the mountains, one of the former surveys will be adopted, if, upon more thorough examination, nothing better presents. The Engineer, however, inclines to the opinion, that a better line than either, can be found by passing out from Bechtol's knob into, and around the heart of "The Loop," and thence, around the foot of Tussey's mountain to Boalsburg, and thence to Bellefonte—from the end of Tussey's mountain constructing a short gravity road to Potter's Mills, to be worked in connection with the main line.

The maximum gradients will be 60 feet to the mile ascending, and 86 feet per mile descending going East, with maximum curvature of 90,637, feet radius.

The Board of Directors are now, we understand, endeavoring to make satisfactory arrangements with the Pennsylvania Railroad, and with the other connecting roads, in relation to traffic, rates of charges, etc., etc. This accomplished, the preliminary work, will all have been put in order for the work to begin.

Now, let the whole people of Bellefonte and Centre county arouse themselves to the magnitude, benefits and great business and financial importance of this work.

P. T. BARNUM'S GREAT SHOW.—This Colossal Aggregation, which, according to all accounts, is the most remarkable undertaking ever engaged in by any Manager, is to exhibit at Lock Haven on Monday May 27th 1872.

We presume that nothing to equal this vast enterprise was ever before attempted, and whenever it moves on its triumphal course, thousands of people flock to see it until the mammonth tents are crowded to overflowing. In this gigantic collection Mr. Barnum has combined seven seperate shows, which he exhibits under six seperate tents for the price usually charged for admission to an ordinary show, one ticket which costs but fifty cents admits the holder to the entire exhibition—Circus Manageria and Museum—as well to the tents containing the wild Fiji Cannibals, the Digger Indians, the wonderful "what is it," little Admiral Dot, only twenty-five inches high, smaller by several inches than Tom Thumb, the woman born without arms, who eates, sews, writes, knits, and crochets, with her toes, the bearded child, the baby lions, baby camels, and baby elephants, Monstor Sea lions, the only living giraffe on this continent. Singular musical automatons and mechanical figures together with thousands of other interesting curiosities and rare novelties, to be seen only at P. T. Barnum's great show. To such fabulous proportions has this great enterprise swelled that two trains of thirty-five cars each and four locomotives are necessary to move the grand caravan, and we understand that it takes upwards of four thousand dollars per day to pay the expenses of this colossal moving mirical of the age. But Barnum was always great in great things, and this is his greatest achievement. We presume that excursion trains will be ran on Barnum's day.

HEADQUARTES GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, NEW YORK, Apr. 30, '72)

GENERAL ORDERS, No. 20.—In accordance with the Rules and Regulations, the 30th day of May next will be observed as Decoration Day, by all Posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, and the customary honors will be paid to the memory of our dead comrades.

Posts are recommended to invite the unanimous co-operation of comrades not members of the Grand Army, and of all citizens who wish to join in these Memorial Services.

In addition to the custom of strewing the graves with flowers, it is suggested that they be planted with flowers and shrubs, so that, when we are gone, the Seasons in their ceaseless round may, in our stead, adorn the sleeping-places of our comrades.

By order of A. E. BURNSIDE,
Commander-in-chief.
ROSWELL MILLER,
Assist-Adjutant General.

POST BAYARD, No. 90, G. A. R.,)
DEPARTMENT OF PENN'A.
BELLEFONTE, May 22, 1872.)

In accordance with the above recommendation from Headquarters, the honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of Centre county, the teachers and scholars of Sabbath and other Schools, and the public generally, are hereby cordially invited to join with us in paying the usual tribute of respect to the memory of our deceased comrades. It is intended to decorate all soldiers' graves within our lines.

At Boalsburgh the Memorial Services will be in charge of Col. Stewart.

At Milesburg of Col. Greeno.

At Unionville of Capt Van Valin.

At Centre Hall, of Lieut. S. S. Wolf.

At other points, where no members of the Post reside, this duty is respectfully committed to the returned soldiers of such localities, together with the Teachers and Scholars of Sabbath and other schools, and all good citizens generally.

It is earnestly hoped that on Thursday May 30th 1872, there will not be a single soldier's grave within the bounds of Centre county unattended to or neglected.

By order of WM. H. BLAIR,
Post Commander.
ISAAC LYTLE,
Post Adjutant.

BETTER.—Isaac Lose, who is constable of this Borough, and who was so badly injured on the 14th inst while attempting to arrest John Woods, of Spring twp., is, we are pleased to learn, slowly recovering. James Woods, who struck Mr. Lose with the stone and who had been arrested and released on bail, was rearrested and lodged in jail on Saturday morning last, there to remain until the recovery of Mr. Lose, or in the event of his death, until he was convicted and properly punished for his dastardly conduct. The law is not, we think, sufficiently severe in its punishments upon those who resist the authority of properly constituted officers. Mr. Lose is one of our best citizens, and we sincerely hope he may recover and live for many years to bless his family and society.

A MAN was picked up near Muscatine, Iowa, one day last week, floating down the Mississippi on a trunk. His skiff had sunk, but his trunk saved him.

IOWA, NEBRASKA, KANSAS, CALIFORNIA.—Advertising alone does not produce success. The thing which is advertised must have intrinsic merit, or else large advertising will eventually do it more harm than good. If you have anything which you know to be good, advertise it thoroughly, and you will be sure to succeed; if it is poor, don't praise it, for people will soon discover you are lying.

Such is the policy of the BURLINGTON ROUTE, which runs to three great regions in the West: 1st, To Omaha, connecting with the great Pacific Roads. 2d, To Lincoln, the capital of Nebraska, and all that beautiful region south of the Platte, filled with R. R. lands and homesteads 3d, To St. Joseph, Kansas City and all Kansas points.

The roads are splendidly built, have the best bridges, finest cars, the Miller platform and coupler, and the safety air brake (to prevent the loss of life that is every where else happening); Pullman's sleepers, Pullman dining cars, large and powerful engines (to make quick time and good connections), and are in a word the best equipped roads in the West. So that if you desire to go safely, surely, quickly and comfortably to any point in Southern Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, or on the Pacific Roads, be sure that you go "By Way of Burlington."

All who wish particular information, and a large map, showing correctly the Great West, and all its railroad connections, can obtain them, and any other knowledge, by addressing General Passenger Agent, B. & Mo. R. R. R., Burlington, Iowa. 14-3m.

UNDERTAKER.—H. P. Harris Undertaker and manufacturer of furniture of all kinds, Howard street, Bellefonte, is now offering great inducements to the public to purchase of him. He manufactures coffins and attends funerals. Mr. Harris we suppose, has burried more people who have gone to that bourne whence no one returns than any other man of his age in central Pa. He is always punctual in attendance at funerals and knows just how, on those sorrowful occasions, to sooth the sorrows of the afflicted and bereft.

THERE are several kinds of worms which trouble horses; the pin-worms (pointed at both ends) are the most common and most dangerous. Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will in a few days eject the worms, and the horses will begin to thrive.

Factories and machine shops should not be allowed to run a day without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. In case of a sudden accident an immediate use of it may save weeks of suffering and perhaps limb, or even life.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.

A POLITICAL, LITERARY AND MISCELLANEOUS NEWSPAPER.

THE NEW-YORK TIMES.—started in September, 1851,—has for many years been recognized as among the most successful, popular, and influential newspapers in the country. Its proprietors, with greatly increased resources and experience, will spare no pains to extend and strengthen its claims upon the confidence and support of the public.

The TIMES is a Republican journal, and will be devoted, as in the past, to an intelligent and firm support of the Republican Party. It will sustain, with all its ability, the principles and policy which have rendered the party so justly famous in our history. It will advocate those measures by which the honor, the peace and the prosperity of the nation can be best conserved and promoted. It will vindicate our dignity before foreign nations, and will discountenance aught by which our self respect or our love for republican institutions could be endangered.

The TIMES desires to be judged by the highest possible standard of journalism. Its EDITORIAL DEPARTMENT will be conducted in a spirit of fairness and impartiality, free alike from personal rancor or undue favoritism; and will be the production of the ablest and most experienced writers upon all the subjects treated. Its CORRESPONDENCE will be full and timely. Its REPORTS will be prepared with the utmost care, and will embrace every fact or public expression of opinion that possesses interest and importance. The LITERARY DEPARTMENT will be in thoroughly capable hands, and will present a full review of the literature, the fine arts, the music, and the drama of the day.

As a family paper, free from all appeals to vulgar or impure tastes, the TIMES will continue unexceptionable, and may be safely admitted to every domestic circle.

The Sunday edition of the TIMES will include, in addition to all the news selected and original literary matter of the most varied and agreeable character. Special arrangements have been made to impart new attractions to this feature of the paper.

The WEEKLY and SEMI-WEEKLY editions of the TIMES will be compiled with the greatest care, and will contain selections from the most important contents of the Daily issue, besides matters of interest to the agricultural sections of the country. All who prefer a newspaper but once or twice a week will find these editions admirably suited to their requirements.

A special edition of the TIMES for EUROPEAN circulation will be published every Wednesday and Saturday, in time for the European mails, and will be valuable and welcome to our friends abroad, whether Americans or of any nationality than our own.

All these editions of the TIMES are of the very largest size, on large quarter sheets, each containing fifty-six columns printed in clear and legible type, at the following rates.

Your attention is particularly requested to the following certificate referring to those old established remedies, "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS", and "HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC," from that well known citizen,

IRA C. MITCHELL, ESQ.:

"BELLEFONTE, PA., Oct. 27, 187

Sir:—I have just had the pleasure of meeting your Agent, the first representative of "Hoofland's German Bitters" and "Hoofland's German Tonic," it has ever been my good fortune to meet. For many years I have been purchasing and using them to the great comfort of myself, family and friends, having commenced their use on the recommendations of the Supreme Court Judges of this State. It affords me pleasure to have the opportunity to voluntarily recommend the same to all of my friends and acquaintances who may be suffering from Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Billiousness or affections of the Liver, of kind.

Very Respectfully,
IRA C. MITHELL."

These edicines are and have been well known to the community for the last twenty-five years, as genuine, reliable and deserving remedies for the diseases mentioned in the above certificate. Those afflicted should not fail to use them. Sold by all Druggists. C. M. EVANS, Proprietor, 631, Arch Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 3-50-1y

CAUTION.—The public are respectfully cautioned against purchasing watches purporting to be of Elgin manufacture from parties not known to them, as reliable and responsible dealers.

The Excellence and good repute of the real Elgin Watches, has caused Foreign and American manufacturers to make inferior imitations, with the same or similar trade-marks as ours. These watches are being placed upon the market by unscrupulous traders, and in many cases by dealers who advertise American Watches at low prices, and make their profit by supplying, when considered safe to do so, the imitation movement. Avoid dealers who advertise cheap goods and sales upon the C. O. D. plan.

Demand in all cases the certificate of the National Watch Company, signed by T. M. AVERY, President, as to genuineness of the watch purchased.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A CARD.—We take this method of saying that there is no truth in the reports that have been circulated, "that we intend quitting the coal business as soon as our present supply is sold out." On the contrary we have on hands now and intend to keep on hand a well selected stock of the best Anthracite coal in the market.
